○ Test 7

Read the following text and underline the correct answer.

I still remember how anxiously I was waiting for our monthly visit to grandma's house. I was so excited that I couldn't sleep until the day I left for grandma's. As soon as we got to grandma's house, we always went to the kitchen. There, grandma would give us a burning hot bowl of soup and we enjoyed it very much. Grandpa also would give us each a bar of chocolate that melted in ⑤ our mouths soon.

Just off the kitchen, was grandma's living room. High on the wall was an antique clock. At the far end of the room were grandma's short octagonal cabinets with round tops.

Grandma also had a place for us to play. It was the old garage. There were some cars, not just regular cars but wonderful old cars. When the engines of those cars started, they sounded like ⑩ lions roaring.

When the time came to leave grandma's house, we were always sad. We would miss grandma's fresh glass of milk in the morning and grandpa's loud laughter. Sometimes we would hide under grandma's great big bed hoping our parents would leave without us. Eventually, they always found us.

(1) How often did the writer and his family visit grandma?
(a) once a month (b) once a year (c) once a week

(2) What did grandpa offer them?
(a) a bowl of soup (b) a glass of milk (c) a bar of Chocolate

(3) Where was the antique clock?
(a) high on the wall (b) in the kitchen (c) on the cabinet

(4) 'Eventually' in line 13 means;
(a) finally (b) gradually (c) soon

(5) What is the correct order of events which happened at grandma's?
(a) playing in the garage, hiding under grandma's bed, eating a bar of chocolate
(b) eating a bar of chocolate, playing in the garage, hiding under grandma's bed
(c) eating a bar of chocolate, hiding under grandma's bed, playing in the garage

○ Test 15

Read the following text and answer the questions given below.

Life of Sea Otters

① The relationship between a mother and her pup shows the most intimate association in a sea otter's life. The adult male provides no parental care, which is typical for most mammals. However a female sea otter spends a great deal of time and energy in caring for her offspring, which depend on her for nourishment and protection.

② A mother and her pup are never far apart during the entire time. A pup spends most of its time riding on its mother's belly. Even very large pups, six months or older, may still try to "climb on board". You can't help but feel sorry for a mother struggling to paddle with a pup nearly her own size riding on her stomach!

④ While being attentive to their own young, females rarely care for another mother's pup, probably in part because there's little chance that a mother who has lost her own pup will encounter an orphan.

⑤ A pup gets most of its nourishments by nursing from its mother for the first two months of its life. Although the mother continues to suckle her pup throughout the dependency period, the pup gradually adds more solid food to its diet.

⑥ A female's two nipples are often visible on her lower abdomen when she is producing milk. Like other marine mammals, sea otters produce milk that's extremely rich in protein and fat and low in lactose or milk sugar.

(1) State whether the following statements are True or False by putting a tick (√) in the relevant column.

	True	False
(1) Only female sea otters provide parental care.
(2) Pups leave their parents when they are six months old.
(3) A female otter is very unlikely to care for another mother's pup.
(4) Sea otters' milk does not contain lactose.
