Question 7

Read the following four news items and answer the questions (I) and (II). (10 Marks)

(1) Urban transport development	(2) School nutrition programme
The Ministry of Transport has introduced a new bus priority lane in Colombo city to reduce traffic congestion during peak hours, which has become a major concern for daily commuters. The lane will operate only on weekdays, especially during morning and evening rush hours, when traffic is at its highest. Only public buses will be allowed to use this dedicated lane during specified times, while other vehicles must use regular lanes. Officials believe this initiative will significantly improve travel time, reduce fuel consumption, and encourage more people to shift from private vehicles to public transport, thereby easing congestion in the long term.	A revised school meal programme has been launched for primary students in government schools across the country to address concerns about child nutrition and learning ability. The programme aims to provide balanced and nutritious meals that include essential vitamins and minerals needed for healthy growth. Education and health authorities have stated that properly nourished students show better concentration, improved attendance, and higher academic performance in classrooms. In addition, the programme will use locally sourced food items such as vegetables, fruits, and grains, which will not only ensure freshness but also support local farmers and strengthen the rural economy.

(3) Tourism promotion campaign	(4) Flood preparedness measures
Sri Lanka Tourism has launched a new international campaign to attract more visitors during the off-season, a period when tourist arrivals are usually low. This campaign focuses on promoting the country's rich cultural heritage, including ancient temples and historical sites, as well as its diverse wildlife parks and scenic coastal destinations. Authorities have also introduced special travel packages, discounted hotel rates, and promotional offers to encourage early bookings from international travellers. By highlighting unique experiences and affordability, officials hope to maintain a steady flow of tourists throughout the year and increase foreign exchange earnings for the country.	Due to forecasts of heavy rainfall in several regions, the Disaster Management Centre has issued early warnings to residents living in low-lying and flood-prone areas. Authorities have taken precautionary steps by deploying emergency response teams and preparing temporary shelters equipped with basic facilities such as food, water, and medical supplies. Local officials are closely monitoring weather updates and water levels in rivers and reservoirs to respond quickly if conditions worsen. Residents have been strongly advised to remain alert, follow safety instructions, and be prepared to evacuate if necessary in order to minimize damage and ensure public safety.

(I) Underline the most appropriate response in each of the question from (1) – (5).

1. What is the long-term benefit expected from the bus priority lane?

   (a) Increasing private vehicle usage

   (b) Reducing dependence on public transport

   (c) Encouraging more people to use public transport

   (d) Limiting road development

2. The school meal programme is important mainly because it

   (a) reduces government spending

   (b) replaces home-cooked food

   (c) supports both student health and local farmers

   (d) focuses only on rural schools

3. What is the main strategy used in the tourism campaign?

   (a) Increasing ticket prices

   (b) Promoting only urban areas

   (c) Highlighting attractions and offering discounts

   (d) Limiting tourist entry

PAST PAPERS WIKI

4. Why have emergency teams been deployed in certain areas?

Question 2

Read the following text and answer questions (I) and (II). (10 Marks)

Nelson Mandela was born on 18th July 1918 in the village of Mvezo in South Africa. He belonged to a royal family of the Thembu people. His father was a chief, and Mandela grew up learning about leadership and justice from an early age. He completed his education at the University of Fort Hare and later studied law at the University of Witwatersrand.

Mandela became actively involved in the fight against apartheid, a system of racial segregation in South Africa. He joined the African National Congress (ANC) and worked to achieve equal rights for all citizens. Due to his political activities, he was arrested and sentenced to life imprisonment in 1964.

Mandela spent 27 years in prison, most of it on Robben Island. Despite the harsh conditions, he remained committed to his cause. His courage and determination made him a global symbol of peace and resistance.

He was released from prison in 1990 and later became the first Black President of South Africa in 1994. During his presidency, Mandela worked to promote reconciliation and unity among the people of his country.

Mandela received many awards, including the Nobel Peace Prize in 1993. He passed away in 2013, but he is remembered worldwide as a symbol of freedom and equality.

Leisure

What is this life if, full of care,
We have no time to stand and stare?
No time to stand beneath the boughs
And stare as long as sheep or cows:
No time to see, when woods we pass,
Where squirrels hide their nuts in grass:
No time to see, in broad daylight,
Streams full of stars, like skies at night:
No time to turn at Beauty's glance,
And watch her feet, how they can dance:
No time to wait till her mouth can
Enrich that smile her eyes began?
A poor life this if, full of care,
We have no time to stand and stare.

W. H. Davies

Urban Gardening on the Rise

In recent years, urban gardening has gained popularity in many cities around the world. With limited space and increasing concerns about food security, people are turning to rooftops, balconies, and small plots of land to grow their own fruits and vegetables. This practice not only provides fresh produce but also promotes a healthier lifestyle.

Urban gardening offers several benefits. It helps reduce stress, improves air quality, and strengthens community bonds as neighbors often work together in shared garden spaces. Additionally, it encourages sustainable living by reducing dependence on commercially grown food and minimizing transportation costs.

However, urban gardening is not without its challenges. Limited space, lack of proper knowledge, and difficulty in accessing quality soil and water can hinder success. Despite these obstacles, many city dwellers continue to adopt urban gardening due to its long-term advantages.

Summary

Urban gardening is becoming popular in cities as people grow food in small (1) …… such as rooftops and balconies. It provides fresh produce and supports a healthy (2) …… This practice also improves air quality and builds (3) …….. among people. However, factors like limited space and lack of (4) …….. can create difficulties. Even so, its long-term (5) …….. encourage people to continue urban gardening.

Question 5

Read the following text and answer the questions from 1– 4. (20 Marks)

1. In recent years, the use of renewable energy has increased around the world. Many countries are turning to natural sources such as sunlight, wind, and water to produce electricity. Experts believe this shift is important to reduce environmental damage.

2. One major advantage of renewable energy is that it does not run out. Unlike fossil fuels, sources like solar and wind energy are naturally replenished. This makes them a reliable option for long-term energy production.

3. In addition, renewable energy helps to reduce pollution. Traditional energy sources release harmful gases into the atmosphere, which contribute to climate change. By using cleaner energy, countries can protect both the environment and human health.

4. However, there are also challenges. The initial cost of building renewable energy systems can be high. For example, setting up solar panels or wind turbines requires significant investment.

5. In countries like India, renewable energy production has grown rapidly over the past decade. Solar power projects have been introduced in many regions, providing electricity to rural communities.

6. Governments play an important role in encouraging the use of renewable energy. They offer financial support, tax reductions, and awareness programs to promote clean energy solutions.

7. Technological advancements are also improving the efficiency of renewable energy systems. Modern equipment can store energy for use when natural sources are not available, such as during cloudy or windless days.

8. Despite some difficulties, renewable energy offers many benefits. It creates job opportunities, reduces dependence on imported fuels, and supports sustainable development.

9. Experts suggest that global cooperation is necessary to expand renewable energy use. Countries must share knowledge and resources to achieve a cleaner and safer future.

1. Do the following statements agree with the information given in the above text.
